BEST CLASS 10 BUILDING – NORTHERN REGION NSW

WINNER – ATLANTA BUILDING

IN ADDITION TO WINNING THE AWARD FOR BEST CLASS 10 BUILDING, WHICH IS A WORKSHOP OR INDUSTRIAL SPACE, ATLANTA BUILDING ALSO CAME UP TRUMPS WINNING THE AWARD FOR BEST USE OF TIMBER AT A PROPERTY IN MCLEODS SHOOT.

Externally, the structural posts combined with the balcony decking and handrails showed great attention to detail and workmanship. Internally, the polished strip flooring and matching stairs present a warm and inviting ambience, with the use of timber also extending to the louvres.

The carpenters employed on this project demonstrated a high degree of skill and the judges said they should be highly commended on their efforts.

Atlanta Building work closely with their clients from the initial design brief, through to project completion, assisting with pre-build budgets, design advice and guidance, assistance with council and close collaboration with architects or design consultants.

Whether it's a home builder, or commercial shop fitter you're after, Atlanta's business manager Cameron Paton brings a wealth of knowledge to every project.

With more than 12 years experience in construction and a qualified background in finance, he has a thorough understanding of planning, budgets and management.

Cameron's double degree in business and finance enables him to micro-manage all facets of project management, including budgets, sub-contractor relations, supplier relations, forecasting, time management and scheduling. Cameron's experience ensures confidence in every project with effective communication regarding all budgets and schedules.

"Our site foreman Paul Osborne has over 25 years of hands on building experience and takes pride in the detail of our builds.

"He thrives on working closely with our clients to ensure their visions are delivered," says Cameron.

Paul is the site foreman for Atlanta Building and the main point of contact between the site and office.

Paul's unlimited patience and attention to detail ensures all projects from architectural residences to commercial shop fit outs are delivered on time and as envisaged.

Paul is able to deliver any type of build, no matter how simple or complex.

In 2013 Atlanta Building won the MBA award for Best Bathroom over $25,000 and in 2012 they won Best Contract Home from $1-2 million.
